

Microwave Splatter Cover Continues to Receive Positive Reviews

M Marketing February 18, 2015

Consumers who have purchased the microwave splatter cover sold by Monika's Marketplace continue to share their satisfaction with the product on Amazon.

(Newswire.net -- February 18, 2015) Sanford, FL -- Since its launch, the microwave splatter cover sold on Amazon by Monica's Marketplace has been making waves and has quickly climbed up to hold a spot in the top Cookware Accessories category.

The microwave cover is designed for use outside the microwave as well as inside the microwave. It features a high dome that covers plates and containers without touching food and prevents splatters while reheating or cooking food in the microwave. At 10.5" diameter x 3.5" height, the microwave splatter cover is an exact fit for the standard dinner plate. It also features a vent steam release at its top to allow steam to escape when opened and to keep food warm when closed.

The best thing about this microwave cover is that it is great for customers of all walks of life from busy moms, to single men, to large and small families and more! Customers have expressed their satisfaction with the efficiency, quality and features of this microwave splatter cover as well as the quality service received from the company all over Amazon.

"This company is great. My cover was received cracked (from shipping), when I contacted them, they sent me a replacement out the next day with no hesitation. When I got the new one, it was perfect. That really showed they care. I will continue to buy from them again with the other products they have" said John G., a satisfied customer.

One customer, Kimberley Madden, shared, "After having a rather inexpensive cheaply made cover for years, I was so impressed with the quality of this BPA Free microwave cover."

Sandee B, another customer, expressed, "I like that there is no BPA & there is a vent on the top. It works perfectly & you avoid using any other type of cover--and if there is a mess, it all goes inside the lid. And, the lid goes in the dishwasher."

"Being a mommy of two and a full time teacher, I often depend on my microwave to get dinner on the table. This product is perfect," another user, Kim H., shared.

The high quality and efficiency of Top BPA Free's Microwave Splatter Cover earned it over 90% five star reviews and the number 7 spot in the Cookware Accessory category on Amazon since its launch.
